

Over the past eleven years, the Carter G. Woodson

Foundation and the name Philip Thomas have become synonymous. The non-profit organization (Black Arts Achievement) that was started by Philip and five other Montclair State College students in 1974, has grown to become a nationally recognized arts organization that provides not only the New Jersey community, but the entire United States with quality African-American cultural, historical and performing arts programs.

The Board of Directors of the Carter G. Woodson Foundation invites you to celebrate the accomplishments of Philip Thomas, and to wish him great success in his new endeavors with the New Jersey Performing Arts Center. Tuesday, November 10, 1992 • 5:30 - 8:00 P.M. • Newark Public Library Centennial Hall • 5 Washington Street • Newark, New Jersey.
